YOUNG WOMAN SLAYS SELF AT LOVER'S FEET

Texas Girl Drives Dagger Into
Her Heart When Man
Abandons Her.

HAD FIERY TEMPERAMENT

Tragedy Occurs in Chicago Hotel After Girl Tells Fortune With Cards.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Inquiry into effects leading to the death of Miss Theodora Sanders, 23, Laredo, Texas, who stabbed herself with a dagger and fell dead at the feet of the man who had just told her he didn't love her anymore, was to be made at the inquest here today.

Police searching Miss Sanders' room, found playing cards on a table with indications that she had been telling her fortune. The ace of spades, the death card, was found slashed with a knife. Police believe Miss Sanders had made up her mind to die before she met Harry G. Garver, trade commissioner for the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The tragedy occurred on the mes-sanine floor of a downtown hotel.
According to police, Miss Sanders,
ward of a Laredo banker and descendant of a Spanish family, killed herself after Garver suggested to her that they meet no more.

"It is our last meeting," she said.
She rose and struck herself twice in the breast with a Mexican dagger.
Garver, police said, admitted he had courted Miss Sanders. He met her,
he said, while on a trip through the southwest with Chicago businessmen.

"But she was too temperamental,"
said Garver. "Too much firework."
Garver, police said, is married.

He was sued for divorce in 1919 and had promised Miss Sanders he would marry her, police said. The divorce, however, was never granted.

Among Miss Sanders' effects were dozens of letters from Garver. One of them read as follows:

"My dear precious girl, dear girl,
I love you with my body and soul and love I'd love to take you in my arms and give you a big kiss—lots of them. A million kisses to you, my dear precious sweetheart."

Garver was still held in custody, to day. He was not detained at police headquarters, but was permitted to go to a hotel where guards stood outside his door.

Hotel attaches at the Fort Dear born today stated the girl carried the homie knife with which she killed herself constantly in the grille of her dress. She often boasted of her skill in hurling the knife, claiming
she could throw it better than a man.
When things got dull around the hotel, she practiced throwing the knife.
She was able to stick a playing card
that had been pinned on the wall,
it is said, they said.

Garver had made several trips to visit the girl. Letters and telegrams which were found in her room after she killed herself showed they met once in St. Louis and another time in New York.

While Garver was on a trip to Mexico with a party of businessmen Miss Sanders joined him at Laredo and went to Mexico City. She was the only woman on the train.

After the party returned to Chicago,
Carl Gottlieb, a friend of Garver's who told the romance, published a picture of Garver and Miss Sanders together, and announced their engagement. This resulted in a great deal of trouble for Garver in obtaining his divorce and caused other difficulties,
he complained in a letter to the girl.

While Miss Sanders was in Chicago
last July, a telegram signed "Harry and Theodora" was sent to Miss Sanders' relatives in Laredo saying they "would be married tomorrow."

Later when Miss Sanders returned home, all letters and telegrams to be were addressed "Mrs. Harry Garver."
The fact that she had returned home was explained by saying Garver was forced to make a long business trip.

Achieved Writer

Laredo, Texas.—Miss Theodora
Sanders, who killed herself in Chicago yesterday, was one of Laredo's most beautiful and accomplished young women.

She was known as a writer of fiction in both Spanish and English. She lived with her aunt, Miss Emilia Sanders.

About two years ago she was involved in a breach of promise suit which was compromised.

The engagement of Miss Sanders to Garver was announced here a year ago. They made a trip together to Mexico City and not many weeks later newspapers here received an announcement of their marriage in Chicago. However, when the girl returned from Chicago recently, it was learned the marriage had not taken place.

Mrs. Ruth Campbell, an intimate friend of Miss Sanders, said the girl was in a troubled state of mind when she left here. At that time Mrs. Cambell said she expressed fears for the worst as she thought Miss Sanders was desperate.

Miss Sanders killed herself on her twenty-ninth birthday.

HARDING'S PRIVATE SECRETARY?

GEORGE B. CHRISTIAN RICHARD WASHBURN CHILD

George B. Christian (left) and Richard Washburn Child (right) are both mentioned as private secretary to President-elect Warren G. Harding. No formal announcement as to Harding's choice has yet been made. Christian acted as his secretary during the campaign. Child is a lawyer and writer.

PREMIER'S TALK IS OPTIMISTIC

Lloyd George Declares That Conditions Are Righting Themselves.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Premier Lloyd George's speech at "Lunches" are coming right," drew applause from most of the London press today.

The premier's statement in a speech at the lord mayors' banquet
last night that the government "has murdered in Ireland by the throat," was the only portion of the address to be criticized.

The Daily Telegraph approved the business indicated on the Irish question and hoped the policy would be pursued consistently.

"Ireland is the blackest spot in Europe today," the Daily News declared.
"No barquent rhetoric can make it otherwise."

Lord Northcliffe's Mail somewhat cautiously said it hoped the premier's expectations as to Germany's fulfilling her obligations would be realized.

The Times disputed Lloyd George's statement that he had asked the Sinn Feiners to send someone qualified to represent Ireland to talk conciliation,
but that no delegate had been sent.

There was a response to the request, the Times said, but the premier chose to ignore it.

"The speech will only echo worldwide mockery of the British name,"
the Times declared.

COUSINS FIND STATE WHICH MARRIED THEM

By United Press Leased Wire
Pittsfield, Mass.—Harry Richardson
and Miss Rhoda Lewis Richardson,
first cousins, proved that where there is a will there is a way.

The cousins were married here after striving in seven states to procure a license. The law in many states forbids the marriage of first cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were on their way back to their home in Bay
City, Mich., after being married here.

Harding Forgets His Golf In Excitement of Fishing

Point Isabel, Texas.—Senator and Miss Harding caught their first tarpon today.

Sensor Harding's fish measured
five feet nine inches.

The senator battled 15 minutes before he landed his tarpon. Mr. Harding struggled thirty minutes to land
his fish.

Sensor Fred Hale, Md., was in the boat with Mrs. Harding and helped land the tarpon.

Mrs. Harding refused to go out vesterday but coaxing by other members of the party brought her out today.

Point Isabel, Texas.—Undaunted by his failure to land a big tarpon after a forty minute struggle, President-elect Harding ventured out into the bay again today to try his luck once more.

Sensor Harding also spent considerable time consulting the best minds of this little fishing village regarding cures for mosquito bites and sunburn, both afflictions having been visited on the president-elect by his family as less persons here.

Harding has taken to tarpon fishing like a duck to water. He has called his plans for going today and was out in sunup across the bay to where the best fishing is.
Harding had not broken hard-

PROFITEERS ARE ACTIVE

Urge Abolition of Tax on Mortgages to Stimulate Home Loans.

(By Don E. Chamberlain)
By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago.—Building loan sharks, the income tax law, and "profiteers' greed"
are a combination which must be smashed if the shortage of several million homes in the United States is to be met, witnesses testified at a hearing here today before the United States senate committee on reconstruction.

The hearing was the first of a number that will be held throughout the west. The committee will meet in Des Moines, Iowa, Friday.

Legitimate money lenders are refusing to make loans on mortgages, W.
W. Baird, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and Charles Bostrom, building commissioner here, testified.

Baird declared that builders have to pay as high as 17 per cent interest on mortgages. This usury is practiced, according to Bostrom, through "commissions" extracted when the loan is made and does not appear in the written transaction.

After questioning Bostrom regarding building costs, Senator Kenyon of Iowa, member of the committee, denounced profiteers as the cause of the home shortage.

"The home shortage is not caused by high wages paid labor as it has been claimed.

"Greed is the cause of it all—profiteers' greed." Let us send a few of them to jail."

Baird said the federal tax on mortgages should be abolished to encourage big capitalists to invest in building mortgages.

"Big estates and insurance companies which have in the past invested
their surplus in real estate mortgages,
have now not only stopped doing so but are selling the ones they have and placing the proceeds in other sound securities," Baird said.

Testimony brought out that window
blinds are being sold for three times their real value. That building material has doubled and that lumber has jumped three and four hundred per cent.

Dr. John Doll Robertson, city health commissioner urged passage by congress of laws which would compel builders to ventilate their homes so that the air would be pure.

Robertson urged that for sanitary reasons the municipalities should be compelled to keep records of homes as to who lived in them and of diseases occurring in them.

WANTS SON TO KNOW HER AS BEAUTIFUL; ENDS LIFE

Chicago.—Mrs. Clarence W. Russell, widow of a famous Chicago university football player, carried out her wish that her son would always remember her as a beautiful woman. Her body was taken from Lake Michigan today.

She had killed herself, relatives believed.

Mrs. Russell had always feared that her son might grow up and, as she grew older, might not realize that she was a beautiful woman. She had a cousin take care of the boy. The mother never allowed her son to see her, although she watched him from behind trees and from other hidden points as he went to school. She disappeared Monday.

John C. Singleton, her brother, identified the body.

Red Cross Roll Call Organization Ready To Begin Big Campaign

City and County Organized to Enroll Every Person in Society — Campaign Begins
Thursday and Ends Thanksgiving Day.

The organization for conducting the 1921 Red Cross roll call has been completed with the exception of a few minor details Mrs. B. W. Wells, county Red Cross secretary, has been named roll call chairman. The workers are prepared to cover every home
in the county during the period from Thursday, armistice day, to Thursday, November 25, Thanksgiving day. An enrollment to surpass that of other years will be the aim, in order to carry out the peace time program.

The roll call headquarters are in the Sherman house annex, next to the chamber of commerce office. Mrs.
George Woelz, secretary of the Outgoing Red Cross chapter, will be special roll call cashier and will have charge of the headquarters. The telephone number is 435.

Solicitors are to work only in the homes this year. No solicitation will be carried on in any mill, factory,
office, or store in order that employers may be saved from annoyance.

Those who are away from home are asked to bear this in mind, and leave their dollar with others in the household. Those who will be spared a second or third trip should be done Thursday. The workers plan to overlook nobody. They will try to make every home 100 per cent in Red Cross membership.

Part of the publicity work has already been done. This was divided into three sections with Dr. James A.
Rolfe in charge of street publicity,
with the boy scouts as assistants.
Charles C. Baker heads the speakers' committee. Posters have been put up all over the county, announcing the work and describing Red Cross activities and needs. Red Cross films will be shown at every theater together with slides. Several stores have made special window displays. Speakers will tell briefly of the Red Cross
plans at coming public gatherings.

The county has been divided into three units for purposes of complete solicitation. The city of Appleton is one, with James A. Wood as chairman. Kaukauna is a second with Don Truch and Mrs. Katherine Sullivan in charge. The towns and rural districts comprise the third, with chairman at the headquarters and a chairman from the town or township
in charge of each.

Mrs. Wood has worked out a system of zones which includes every part of the city.

All the city workers have not been selected as yet. Following are the names of those now in the organization:

Mrs. Treat, Mrs. Farley, Mrs. Raser,
Mrs. Raymond Peterson, Mrs. L. E.
Sugerman, Mrs. Lother Graef, Mrs.
Roy Davis, Mrs. F. Bellew, Mrs. C.

The Kaukauna directions have arranged groups of workers to cover each ward. A captain is placed at the head of each ward and workers are to be assigned to each block. The captains are: First ward, Mrs. Henry Minkheg; second ward, Mrs. H. S.
Cooke; third, Mrs. Godfrey; fourth,
Mrs. Andrew MacDonald; fifth, Mrs.
R. Hoffman.

A local chairman will head each section in the county. Each will be assisted by a director named by the county chapter, who will keep his branch chairman in touch with the headquarters office. The progress of the roll call will thus be reported promptly, and a means will be provided to reach each section of the county without confusion.

The branch chairmen and their chap-

FIGHT PLAN TO CUT APPLETON OFF OF TRAIL

Failure to Support Yellowstone Trail May Result in Losing It.

DELEGATION TO OSHKOSH

Appleton Businessmen Plan to Show Why Trail Should Not Be Re-routed.

Appleton will probably be represented by a large number of business men at the Wisconsin state meeting of the Yellowstone Trail association at Oshkosh Friday. The gathering is said to be of vital importance to every city along the trail, as a movement is on foot to reroute it through Iowa because of lack of support among Badger cities.

Secretary Corbett of the chamber of commerce has taken up the issue and has sent a letter to every Appleton
member of the trail association, urging his presence at Oshkosh. Business men will also be urged by telephone to attend. The Appleton men will probably leave in a body, but the time and place is to be named later.

The meeting at Oshkosh is not specifically for the purpose of discussing the situation. It is one of the usual meetings held by the association, but the size of the gathering and the importance shown will probably have a definite bearing on the possible loss of the trail.

It has been shown in correspondence from the Yellowstone Trail of ficers to the chamber of commerce
that Wisconsin cities have been backward in their support of the trail. On lv part of the dues paid the amount pledged the association. Appleton is one of the cities that met its full quota, and the business men feel that the trail should not be moved because other cities failed to carry out their agreement.

Iowa is anxious to secure the trail,
and the Chicago officials are said to have leaned favorably toward the suggestion that the highway be routed
from Chicago to Minneapolis through Iowa, cutting this state out entirely.
Secretary Corbett has written every chamber of commerce in Wisconsin
that would be affected, urging that large delegations be sent to the Oshkosh meeting, ready to put in a strong plea to prevent any changes.

The Friday meeting is to open at 9:30 o'clock in the morning at the Athenaeum hotel. T. W. Melickjohn, member of the executive committee for Wisconsin, will preside. The annual report for 1920 will be presented by H. B. Wiley, president of the Yellowstone Trail association will attend and will deliver an address. The proposed plan and budget for 1921 will also be discussed.

Eight committees will be appointed to go over the plans and budget. They will meet and prepare reports before
the business session of the afternoon.
These committees are: Assessment and finance, resolutions and general subjects, publicity, information, road improvement, legislation,
and special subjects matters.

Each delegation will select a speaker to talk briefly on "The Yellowstone Trail and My Town." The reports of the committees will follow. Other business matters will be taken up, including election of the Wisconsin member to the national executive committee.
The Oshkosh people will probably arrange some form of entertainment for the evening.

Safety Program Reduced Accidents By 49 Per Cent

Kimberly-Clark Company Plan
Results in Saving to Men and Employer.

"Safety first" is not an innovation or a welfare movement at the eight plants of the Kimberly-Clark company. It was at the start, but it has become an institution. Its teachings are so deeply imbedded in the minds of the employees that accidents have been reduced as much as 49 per cent in the past two years.

The culmination of a year's activities was safely first week, which just closed. The company had almost a perfect score during the week with only two accidents reported. One young man at the Kimberly mill had his nose broken when the crank of a windlass struck it. Another at the Teulahu mill had his foot injured when a shaft fell upon it. There were two accidents during safety first week a year ago, so the record remains the same.

One outstanding result of the safety campaign is the caution exercised by the men against infection. States S. P. Shattuck, they have learned that no injury, cut or abrasion is too trivial to need attention. The company's reports show that 615 men came to the first aid room of the Kimberly plant alone within a year, to receive treatment. Under the old plan, this number would have been about 50.

Niagara Shows Up Well

The Niagara mill was considered one of the most dangerous, but is making an enviable record among its 750 men. There has been no accident in the last three weeks. The reports for the year ended July 1, 1919

Milwaukee Woman Is Complimented

Friends Surprised At Wonderful
Change In Her Appearance—
Gives Tanlac Credit

"I am all the time praising Tanlac to my friends and I have a good reason for doing so, for it has relieved me of my troubles and made me feel like a new person," declared Mrs. Roy Williams, of 215 National Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

"For two or three years my stomach was in a badly disordered condition. I was forced to give up coffee, meats, potatoes, everything fried or the least bit heavy, and live on a diet of just the lightest foods. But no matter what I ate, three or four times a week I had severe attacks of indigestion that nearly drove me wild.

I suffered so from nausea that often I couldn't retain a thing, and at times I had severe pains in my side and the worst kind of cramping pains in my stomach. My complexion was muddy and sallow. I was weak and run-down and in just about as bad condition as a person could be and still keep going.

But from the way Tanlac took hold of these troubles it seemed as if it had been made especially for my case. I commenced to improve right off and now feel as well as I ever did. I have such an appetite I feel like eating all the time, and I can eat just anything I please and never have a touch of indigestion.

"My complexion has cleared up and my friends are constantly speaking of how much better I look. I have so much more strength and energy I feel good all the time and just can't say too much in praise of Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Vogt; F. O. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. E. Abund, Dale; R. E. Lovell, Little Chute.

APPLETON IS SMALLEST BALTIMORE LUNCH CITY

Appleton is the smallest city in the United States to have a "Baltimore Lunch" room, according to J. P. Mayhugh, who will open the lunch room here Thursday. Appleton is the second city in the state to get one of these famous lunch rooms.

The Baltimore dairy lunch system was founded 35 years ago by J. A. Whitcomb in Baltimore. Since then these lunch rooms have been established in nearly all principal cities in the United States.

Mr. Mayhugh, who was formerly of Des Moines, Iowa, had charge of the construction work here. The place will be managed by Hastings Schell who will conduct it the same as the company's big lunch rooms in Chicago, New York and other large cities.

MANY APPLICANTS FOR HIGHWAY BOSS JOB

The office of county highway commissioner which will be filled at this session of the county board, will not go begging. Since the resignation of A. G. Brusewitz, who has held the position for several years, several persons have made it known that they would not turn down the office if it were offered to them, but it was not generally known until the board met Tuesday afternoon that several super-visors were candidates. The fact that they are members of the board that is selecting disqualifies them, however, unless some other action is taken.

331,920 FREIGHT CARS DELIVERED IN A MONTH

During the month of October, 1920, the Northwestern Railway company delivered 331,920 cars to industries and coal yards in its Chicago terminals according to a notice from the company's headquarters just received by Station Agent W. B. Basing. This is the largest delivery for one month ever made by the company.

The revenue loading on the Northwestern road during October was 148,480 cars as compared with 142,855 cars for the same month a year ago, an increase of 45 per cent.

Maud Ballington Booth

PRISON WORKER TO BE SPEAKER HERE

Maud Ballington Booth Is One of Community Course Attractions.

High among the names of women who will appear on the program of the Appleton Community Lecture and Artists Series is that of Maud Ballington Booth, who has gained wide fame because of her work among the unfortunates in prison.

Tickets for the course will go on sale at nine o'clock Friday morning at the Y. M. C. A. Advance interest indicates a sale which will far exceed last year's record.

Most people know of the work which Mrs. Booth has done under the auspices of the Volunteer Prison League, which she founded and sustains. More than 55,000 men while serving prison sentences have accepted their complete reformation to the work carried on by the league and are still its loyal supporters.

At present she can devote only a few days each season to the platform, and money thus earned goes to the support of her prison work, the financial burden of which rests on her shoulders.

shoulders with well-nigh overwhelming responsibility. Mrs. Booth's address is entirely new with each succeeding season, for the incidents of her work furnish far more material of enthralling interest than she can possibly utilize. She is the godmother in thousands of homes, not a fairy godmother either, but one who brings actual blessing and comfort. As such she is revered.

Mrs. Booth is not a sentimentalist, but believes that imprisonment should tend toward reformation, and she is today recognized as one of the world's leading exponents of sane prison reform. Without consulting or even advising her the governors of thirty-eight states petitioned the president to appoint her the American delegate to the world's prison congress. The outbreak of the war, of course, caused the abandonment of the congress, but the specific signed indorsements of these thirty-eight governors form a most unusual testimonial.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get
at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the result.

Plenty Of Candy But It Will Cost More This Year

Price of Sugar Has Dropped
But Labor Costs Are Much Higher.

Appleton people will have no difficulty in obtaining all the candies, nuts and Christmas novelties they desire for the holiday season, according to local dealers.

"We are unable to fill our orders," said Peter Trass, of the Trass candy company. "We expect to put on a night shift soon to take care of the Christmas rush. At present we have a force of ten working ten hours a day. We are greatly handicapped by lack of room, and consequently have had to turn down some orders. We are having no trouble getting materials. Altho sugar is a little cheaper than last year, I don't believe candy is coming down in price because of other items. The cost of boxes and fancy wrapped goods is very high now. The nuts that is used in wrapping bars is expensive. The nuts are of good quality this year, but higher priced in general. In a short time we will be putting up the Christmas tree candies."

"The cost of labor is keeping candy up," declared K. Gulakis, proprietor of the Palace of Sweets. "Sugar has been dropped in price since last holiday season, but labor and other costs have increased accordingly. As long as wages are as high as they are now, I believe candy will remain up. There is no difficulty in securing all the materials we want. We are supplied with sufficient sugar to carry us thru the holidays. Walnuts have decreased in price while pecans have gone up this year," concluded Mr. Gulakis.

Thomas Vermeulen, proprietor of Vermeulen's Tea Shop, says that candy business has picked up remarkably since the cold weather.

"It is impossible to keep a supply sufficient for the demand in pan goods. The heavy box goods always sell especially well at the holiday season."

"Our candies have dropped in price slightly," said Miss Hoier, clerk in Gmeliner's Candy Shop. "We are experiencing no difficulty in getting materials, in fact we can get all we want."

Local conditions indicate that those possessing "sweet teeth" will not have to crave their favorite brand in vain. If they have the additional few pennies necessary, it is claimed that every one eats candy. The same person who can't afford to buy a new coat will see some tempting sweet in a show window and purchase it without question.

KING WINTER ARRIVES IN WAKE OF LONG RAIN

Residents of this locality woke up this morning to find that the skies had cleared and that the mercury had hit the tologgan. It was the coldest morning recorded so far this year, and made everybody fire up furnaces and stoves.

The temperature in the rural sections was reported to be 14 degrees above zero, 16 points below the freeze-ing mark. City thermometers showed 20 degrees above at 7:30 o'clock. Standing water froze almost everywhere, and the wet ground was frozen hard until the sun was well overhead.

Farmers were obliged to abandon their fall plowing on account of the freeze-up. Many kept on plowing despite the rain and wet ground in order to finish up. Those with tractors were able to keep at it under all kinds of weather, with shelters built over the engineer's seat. Plowing was laid on account of a long dry spell, but few will be obliged to let it rest until spring.

ENLISTMENT BONUS FOR FORMER U. S. SAILORS

J. J. Cullen, navy recruiting officer, who visits Appleton every week, will remain here Wednesday and Thursday to give former service men a chance to enlist in the navy under the bonus provision. This provides that former navy men who have been out of service over four months and less than one year, will be taken in with the bonus provision of four months pay.

Mr. Cullen has his office in the post office building. He says that the navy is short 25,000 men, and the deficit must be made up by February 1. It is expected that 143,000 men will be in the navy by that time.

PEMBINE MAN AGAIN WINS POTATO PRIZE

Marinette, Wis.—Eric Mikkelsen, Pembine, champion Triumph potato grower of Wisconsin, carried off the honors this year at the Marinette county grain and potato shows. He won first for Triumphs, first for Rural New Yorkers and first for Swedish select outs. For the last named he was first for the third successive year and thus becomes the permanent owner of the silver cup hung up for a triple first.

C. F. Kenison, John Lundgren and Oscar Reed, Pembine, and J. A. Malone and A. F. Bolander, Amburg, all took potato prizes.

Prof. George M. Briggs of the College of Agriculture made the declaration that the grain and potatoes shown at the Marinette county exhibition were ahead of any he had seen in 25 previous shows in Wisconsin this fall. Secretary Milward of the state potato association, who acted as a judge, said that the grain and potatoes shown by the Marinette county boys and girls are good enough to compete with the selections of senior exhibitors at state shows.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Zemlock and children and Mr. and Mrs. M. Weide and children of Oshkosh called on Mr. and Mrs. John Letz, 485 State street Tuesday evening.

DOES NOT EXPECT MUCH 'FLU' HERE

City Health Officer Warns Appleton People to Be on Their Guard.

That the city of Appleton is nearly free from contagious diseases, is the statement of Dr. Ellsworth, city health officer. Two weeks ago the city was absolutely free from scarlet fever, and up to Tuesday, only three cases had been reported. One case of whooping cough was reported to the office on Tuesday. It is the only case that is known in the city.

"Smallpox is in evidence at the college, and I have ordered all the students to become vaccinated, unless they can show good evidence of a previous successful vaccination. We have no cases about the city, and that is the only way to prevent its spread," Dr. Ellsworth said.

Dr. Ellsworth said that 70 out of 125 boys in Brokaw hall have been vaccinated.

"There is no flu or influenza as we call it so far this winter. That opinion is based on the fact that the city is free from contagious diseases."

STREET CAR CRASHES INTO FURNITURE TRUCK

Beyond a few bruises, no one was injured Monday when a truck load of furniture bound for Sturgeon Bay collided with the interurban which leaves Kimberly for Kaukauna at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The accident occurred where the truck and the road cross at the bottom of the hill, near Kimberly station.

The truck was thrown into the ditch and the furniture was strewn all over the ground. Much of it was smashed. The owner's name was not learned.

demie will be little more than a bad case of grip this winter. "The doctor said that to keep immune from the flu, one must use just ordinary precaution. Sleeping rooms should be well ventilated. The windows should be open the year around. However, one should not sleep with the wind blowing upon the bed.

"Dress according to the weather, and do not unnecessarily expose yourself to cold and wet," he said.

Dr. Ellsworth said that it is folly to fight the flu if one is taken with it. He said that the best way was to admit that one is sick and go to bed.

"Take a cathartic and keep warm. Do not go out too soon after your illness, for then you are subject to pneumonia."

GREEN BAY WANTS BIG AUDITORIUM

Association of Commerce Sponsors Movement to Build Huge Hall.

Green Bay, Wis.—The Association of Commerce is fostering a move to build an auditorium here. It is planned to issue bonds to cover the cost of construction. Joseph C. Grieb, manager of the Milwaukee auditorium, will discuss the plan before a conference of business men here, Nov. 15.

In the motion of A. B. Fontaine, Carrington, alleged keepers of disorderly resorts, their preliminary hearing has been set back to Nov. 15. The defendants have surrounded themselves with a great array of legal talent to fight the case.

Coal barges are working night and day to supply Fox river valley towns. This city is a distributing point for fuel up the valley and all sorts of boats are in use transporting the winter supply. More than 100,000 tons of coal will have been taken out of Green Bay by Nov. 15. This is double the fuel transported in 1919.

The new State Bank of Big Sausage opened its doors Monday. This financial institution is capitalized at $500,000 and is in a modern home. Thibault, Burke, state senator, and Robert Vickery, county clerk, are among the incorporators.

The Church of England is ahead of the Protestant Episcopal church in its recognition of women in the church.

FISCAL CHANGES FORECAST

The country will be particularly interested in the financial policy of the new administration, and it is pleasing to note that this will apparently be the first matter of domestic concern to which the president-elect and his advisers will address themselves. It is announced that Mr. Harding is working on an extensive program of reconstruction, designed not only to assist the government in meeting its heavy requirements with less burden upon business and the public, but to promote commerce and industry and to restore normal economic conditions as soon as possible.

The program is said to include a revision of the tax laws, with the substitution of a more equitable tax, possibly a sales tax, for the excess profits impost, and a reduction of income taxes. It is also proposed to increase tariff duties, both for revenue and protection. An entire reorganization of federal administration is planned, to the end that useless duplication, overlapping of agencies and other wasted energies may be eliminated. This reform should shorten up the federal pie counter by many miles and reduce the number of employes by the thousands. One of the charges against the present administration is the reckless extremes to which it has gone in the creation of federal patronage. Finally, it is proposed to put into effect a rigid system of accounting, with a federal budget patterned after that provided by the act which President Wilson vetoed at the last session of congress.

Most of these reforms will be welcomed by the people, for it is evident that gross extravagance now prevails in practically all branches of federal administration. There is no doubt whatever that many millions of dollars can be saved to the taxpayers by the introduction of simple business methods, efficiency and economy in the conduct of public affairs. No effort whatever is made in that direction at present, and it is not difficult to imagine the extent to which such management has led us in the wasting of public funds. The Republican congress has a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate its business worth to the nation by cutting down useless expenditures, but it will require real independence and determination to carry out a policy of bona fide retrenchment in the face of the assault that will be made by job-hunting politicians.

So far as taxation reform is concerned, that will be universally commended. It is one of the chief needs of the country, and it cannot come too soon nor in too substantial a measure. The excess profits and excessive income taxes are standing barriers in the way of business recuperation and relief to the consumer as well. Their amelioration should be looked to immediately.

When it comes to tariff revision there will be some misgivings by a public which has good cause to remember the Payne-Aldrich and preceding acts and the futile efforts to obtain reductions of duties which were excessively high. However, since this is an old guard congress, we must expect to go back to rather high "protection," for that is one of its cardinal doctrines.

The United States owes today approximately $24,000,000,000. Its annual interest charge is about an even billion dollars. An overhead item of such proportions demands governmental economy and efficiency, which can be had only through business judgment, resolution and constructive fiscal policies. It is a great opportunity for the Republican party and for leadership in the new administration which attaches to the presidency.

OUR MARKETS ABROAD

There is a way to help prevent American farmers, cotton growers, business and workers at large from passing through a period of trade depression and unemployment. That way is to provide new markets for America's foreign trade. Europe is in crying need of American goods. The American surplus can find takers across the Atlantic if long term credits are provided.

The American Bankers' Association has appointed a committee to report upon the organization of a hundred-million-dollar foreign trade corporation. The purpose of the corporation would be to examine the liabilities of merchants in foreign countries who want American products. The corporation would loan its money to merchants with good credit, and money would be used here in America to pay for American goods on delivery abroad. The foreign trade corporation would look to the return of the loans with proper interest at some future time.

The plan is feasible. Under the Edge law it is legal. And since Europe eventually will recover, it is safe, if carefully directed. Europe has no way of paying at present for what America has to offer. Therefore, credit must be extended or little trading can be done.

When the American people themselves were absorbing whatever their farms, fields and factories could produce, there was no domestic necessity for making a bargain with Europe. But times are changing. We are coming to the point of surplus production, and will soon be in need of more extensive foreign markets.

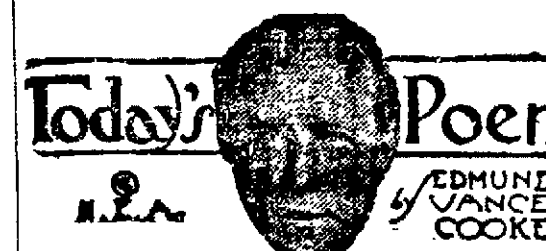

Now is the time, therefore, to take up the question of selling our surplus to Europe, and to see that a way is found to dispose of it.

FOREIGN POLICY

The United States cannot afford to continue making partisan playthings of its foreign policies. America must follow a continuous line in its international relations, whichever party is in power. The first duty of Republicans and Democrats, now that the presidential election has been decided, is to reach a common agreement about this country's relationships abroad.

No nation ever has succeeded in world affairs whose political disputes have not ended at the water's edge. The United States must be a single, undivided nation in its foreign relations. It must disabuse the world of the idea that instability marks the state department's proceedings.

The American constitution requires a two-thirds majority in the senate for the adoption of a treaty. That was the precaution taken by the founders of the republic against introducing the passions and prejudices of partisan politics into discussions upon foreign relations. But the danger still remains. It can be eliminated only by the co-operation of Democrats and Republicans alike. The leaders of both parties should see to it that a new nonpartisan tradition is created by the state department.

GOLF MADNESS

Once he pursued the heavenly orbs
Through all the ages of their flight;
Now one small earthly pull absorbs
His skill from dawn till dusk of night.

Once in the narrow way and straight
He labored hard to win men's souls;
Now ever poor soul has to wait
Till he has finished eighteen holes.

Once he pursued the dream of fame
And steeped his mind in studious lore;
Now he sweats gallons at his game
To slice one digit from his score.

Once he was virtuous and wise
And modest, very much like you;
But now he boasts and brags and lies
Of holing out in three, or two.

Once he had eloquence and power,
But now he's of the major nuts,
And rants and rumbles on for hours
Of creaks and brassies, drives and putts.

Once he pursued the golden girl,
His queen of love, his star of life;
But now the fagged and fozled churl
Pines for his ever had a wife.

The youthful ambition of Sir Arthur W. Pinero, the famous English playwright, was to become an omnibus conductor.

WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE

I am pleased to report progress in the campaign to denaturalize catching cold.

In the past year I have encountered the word "cold," used as the name of a disease, just once in scientific medical literature of the day, although the term is of course carelessly and vaguely employed by some doctors who contribute what are known as squibs to medical publications of low status. The one instance referred to was a contribution by a Boston physician on the treatment and prophylaxis of perennial hay fever by determining the identity of the protein to which the patient is sensitized and administering minute quantities of that protein subcutaneously in gradually increasing doses to establish some degree of immunity. He wrote: "Recurring head colds are frequently coincident with the foregoing sensitizations. . . . This type of head cold is probably not due to an infection, but rather a result of sensitization which renders the nasal mucous membrane easily irritable." So you see he did not mean what you mean when you say you have a cold in the head, if you know what I mean. In fact, he did not mean anything. He said "head cold" without thinking seriously of what he was trying to say.

It does not matter who the doctor may be, if he speaks of a "cold" or "catching cold" or "taking cold," he does not know just what he is talking about. That is why he takes refuge in the use of such a meaningless or indefinite term. Have you ever noticed that when we don't know anything much about a subject we use a lot of vague terms in referring to it? Take occultism. Turn a "psychic" loose and he will make the dictionary groan, yet when he has finished you can't make any sense out of what he has been saying.

No two physicians mean precisely the same thing when they speak of a "cold" or even when they speak of a "head cold." Here's this Boston doctor, a specialist in his field and an authority on the subject of hay fever prophylaxis and treatment, referring to a sensitization of the nasal mucous membrane to certain bacterial proteins as "head cold." Nothing about it, except the dear old delusion. Why didn't he say rhinitis or coryza—he was addressing his remarks to medical readers only, and most medical readers nowadays know what rhinitis or coryza means. New England conservatism.

As a general rule, the only occasion when a doctor makes use of the term "cold" or the delusion "catching cold" is when he is up a tree and feels that he simply must keep the patient, family or friends dangling or quiet their curiosity until such time as he may venture to offer an actual diagnosis.

Therefore, there is still plenty of room for the doctors to disagree about this catching cold delusion.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mitral Insufficiency

What is mitral insufficiency? Does it effect the circulation or the nervous system? Has it anything to do with a leakage of the heart? (Mrs. J. M. C.)

ANSWER.—The mitral valve is the valve between the two cavities of the left side of the heart. Mitral insufficiency is a term sometimes applied to a backward leakage which occurs with each heart beat if that valve is distorted by disease or incompetent by reason of stretching or dilation of the orifice.

Nits

What is good for taking nits from the hair? (A. M.)

ANSWER.—Draw strands of hair through a cloth wet each time with hot vinegar.

The Dear Old Neighbors

I am a girl 14 years old in high school, and for a long time I have wanted a bicycle to ride back and forth on when the weather permits, but mother thinks it would be harmful, because I am somewhat round shouldered and have very weak ankles. The dear old neighbors have wanted her that bicycle riding is very bad for ankles. Mother always cites you as her authority in all things hygienic. (H. P.)

SARAH—Bicycle riding is fine for all girls, and particularly good for girls with weak ankles and round shoulders and such like shortcomings of physical education.

Defending The National Parks.

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—A great battle of words growing out of last session's legislation and to be carried into the chambers and committee rooms of Congress at the coming session, is now being fought to decide the question whether industry, in the form of water power, and irrigation projects, shall be allowed to invade the National Parks of the West, or whether these shall be kept as the unspoiled bits of wild nature which they now are.

At the last session the anti-National Park forces in a surprise attack, tremendously dented Conservation's front by getting National Parks inserted in the Water Power Act, and narrowly missed a sweeping victory in a last minute defense stand on irrigation as exciting as Horatio's heroic feat at the bridge.

The National Park forces, mighty glad of a chance to recuperate, are now sounding the loud call to arms far and wide. They announce their purpose, at the next session, not only to straighten out that big dent in their center and recover all the ground lost on both wings, but to dig in so deep, and weave the wire entanglements so thickly, that their boundaries will be unbreachable forever more.

Meantime, the anti-National Park forces are bringing up big guns to defend their water power victory, and assembling their irrigation armies under able and experienced generals in Congress. Also they are eagerly negotiating with all possible allies.

To Dam the Yellowstone
Yet the immediate issues of the struggle are comparatively small. A little group of farmers, mostly Mormons, living in Idaho, southwest of Yellowstone Park, want to put a dam in the Falls River Basin of the Park, so that they may use the waters for irrigation. Another much larger group of individuals living in the vicinity of Livingston, Montana, north of the Park, want to dam up the outlet of Yellowstone Lake, so as to control the waters of the Yellowstone River for irrigation purposes.

Each of the projects would benefit only the people of a local community, and each of them, say the opponents of the projects, is unnecessary, in that the same results can be accomplished without invading the parks.

The benefits would be local, argue these opponents, but the damage done would be national in character. To dam up the waters of the Yellowstone Lake means to flood thousands of acres of beautiful wilderness; it means to introduce a new administrative force into the confines of the Park. Likewise, to dam the waters of the Falls River Basin would be to ruin one of the best winter elk ranges in the Park system, and one of the two strongholds of the moose in the West; also to spoil one of the finest camping regions just at a time when Yellowstone patronage is leaping in immense bounds.

But this immediate damage which would be done to the national treasure of the parks, is not nearly so important as the precedent which would be established. If industry is once allowed to invade the parks, there will be no end to the invasion. If either of these two projects is allowed, there will be dozens of projects in a few years.

Ever since the parks and national forests were created, there has been a steady, consistent effort on the part of certain interests in the West to keep them up, reduce them in size, or failing in that, to invade them for industrial purposes. Congress has steadily resisted that attempt. In half a century a hundred bills inimical to the parks have been defeated. But little has been heard of this struggle by the general public.

Robert Sterling Yerd of the National Parks Association is determined that much shall be heard of the present attempt. He has enlisted on his side of the fight some of the strongest periodicals in the country. The General Federation of Women's Clubs has taken up the cause and so has the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Museums, universities, conservation associations, forestry schools and a variety of other organization and individuals are rallying to oppose this project for the industrialization of the National Parks.

Q. How many hills were presented to the last Congress? I. M. C.

A. The 66th Congress has had 14,450 bills and joint resolutions presented to it. The total of bills actually passed by both Houses was 503.

Q. Is chop suey a native Chinese dish? H. F.

A. This dish, popular in Chinese restaurants in America, was apparently formed by English-speaking Chinese restaurant-keepers in this country. English "chop" plus Chinese "suey," meaning bits of fragments chopped into small pieces and cooked.

Q. How many English served in our Army during the World War? K. L.

A. The War Department states that the members of the American Expeditionary Force were not classified according to the country of their origin. When a man enters the American Army, he becomes an American citizen, renouncing his allegiance to his former country.

Q. How many spiritualist ministers and mediums are there? N. C.

A. In 1918 there were about 500 ministers and 1,500 public mediums in the United States.

Q. How many songs can a mockingbird sing? E. E. B.

A. The ordinary song notes of the mockingbirds are varied. They sing during the night, as do nightingales, and appear to begin their song with the rising of the moon. Their im-

The object of this formidable campaign is to put the issue once and for all clearly before the public. Are the National Parks to be kept unspoiled, or are they to be subjected to a slow process of disintegration?

Would Benefit Few People

It is not that there is any widespread demand for the industrial utilization of the parks. The demand comes from just a few people living near them. Nor is there anything sinister or ruthless about motives of these people. They are farmers and ranchmen who have lived all their lives in great West, and who therefore have little appreciation of its scenic and historical value, or of the great changes which are affecting it. They see certain bodies of water in the parks which they could conveniently use and they want to use them. They are not enthusiastic about preserving wild life and they do not appreciate scenery. The people about Livingston, Montana, who want to dam the lake, include many of those who last year slaughtered about six thousand elk, as the frenzied animals dashed across the park boundary to escape a blizzard.

The motives of these people are no more sinister or mysterious than those of a child who sees a pot of jam on the shelf and reaches out his hand for it. No do they represent a much more formidable force in the nation than a child does in a family.

The danger of the situation lies in the fact that their demands may be complied with simply because the rest of the nation is uninformed or indifferent. Those who have seen and visited the parks, who know their charm as recreation grounds, their wonderful character as bits of wild America saved from civilization by one and all staunch defenders of the parks. But, although more and more Americans are visiting the parks every year, the total of those who have done so is not yet large. To most Americans they are only a name.

To make them more than a name, to impress upon every American their value to the nation as a whole, and so to make them safe from industrial invasion for all time, is the larger object of the present campaign.

Our Great Public Playgrounds

A popular misconception concerning the real purpose of National Parks is partly responsible for the consideration given to attacks like these," said Mr. Yerd. "The conventional designation of 'playgrounds,' first given them figuratively, has not only come into universal use during recent years but actually has clouded the reason for National Parks existing at all. The National Forests are magnificent playgrounds, and there are thirty times as much of them as of National Parks. The public lands generally are playgrounds. So are city parks.

Fundamentally National Parks are National Museums. They have been carefully chosen as examples of the best there is in the original American wilderness, not only for the enjoyment of the people of today but especially to pass on to generations of Americans of a period when elsewhere there will be no more of the natural wild America to see. A quarter century from now our West will be as fully developed as our East is today.

"The parks are the National Museums then of American history, preserving the actual conditions of pioneer and frontier days; of primitive Nature, carrying down to posterity original forests, wild flowers, streams and lakes, touched only by Nature's own hand; of American wild animals, living natural lives in their ancestral wilderness, undisturbed and unafraid.

"As National Museums, the National Parks are a wonderful possession today and a priceless gift to our children. This was the purpose for which our fathers created the first park, Yellowstone, half a century ago, and for which the rest have been created and conserved till now.

"This nation can afford her National Museums of America. Think of it. They constitute less than one sixtieth part of the public lands still remaining open for irrigation and power development. And less than 10 per cent of the water possibilities of these public lands are in use."

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COUNTY AND STATE

NEW PHONE RATES FOR NEW LONDON

Rate Commission Grants Sharp Increase—Schools Are Overcrowded.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—Plans are being made to give New London better telephone service. On October 30 the Rate Commission handed down a decision increasing local rates. The telephone company began at once to put the new rates into effect and this week subscribers received their bills which were made out under the new schedule. The new rates are $2.25 for a one party business phone; $2.75 for a two party business phone; one party residence phone $2.25; two party $2.40; four party $4.15, with a discount of 25¢ if paid before the 15th of the month. This makes the average residence rate $1.50 per month and is 50 per cent higher than the old rate. New London people are not complaining about the low rates as they appreciate the low rates during the past twenty years and feel that the rates are still lower than in many cities the size of New London.

Violet Bates and Victor Viet who were both severely injured in auto accidents, and who have been at St. Elizabeth hospital at Appleton, are reported improving slowly.

The city nurse has been busy the past week working and examining children in the grades of both the public and parochial schools. The children showed in well, but it was found that about 16 per cent of them are about 10 per cent underweight. The nurse suggested remedies in many cases and said she attributed the defects to improper feeding, especially in the lack of protein foods. Milk, which provides this protein in most digestible form, was strongly advocated in many cases. The nurse also advised serving "milk lunches" at school to those who are under weight. A close watch will be kept of children below weight to note improvement in health.

Members of the Catholic congregation are planning a Mission to be held in the local church during November 14 to 21. The Rev. John A. Costello of Fort Wayne Apostolate of Indiana will be one of the principal lecturers.

The New London schools are becoming over crowded and more room as well as more teachers are needed. The Washington County Normal, located in the upper floor of the McKinley building is over crowded and is trying hard to obtain a home of its own. The first grades on both north and south sides of the river are so crowded that the children have had to be divided into two groups, one attending school mornings, the other afternoons.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL OPENS FALL SESSION

Madison, Wis.—Registration for the thirty-fifth annual short course given by the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture opened today with a heavy enrollment. Already 75 communities are represented by those who have signed for the first term.

"Agriculture is in need of trained leaders today as never before," Dean H. L. Russell of the college said. "In spite of present somewhat discouraging conditions the farm should appeal to the man with ambition. Man after man who has taken the short course has found it not only of immediate practical value, but it has helped in assisting him to meet community problems in marketing and distribution of farm products."

The first short course in agriculture in the country was given at Wisconsin in 1885 under direction of W. A. Henry. Since then practically every state in the Union has been represented by students. Last year 400 were enrolled from 60 Wisconsin counties, 15 states and three foreign countries.

noons. The result is not satisfactory as a day's work has to be crowded into a half day. Temporary barracks put up on the high school campus is also over crowded. Supt. D. Newberry appeared before the council this week and the public property committee will meet with the Board of Education this week and talk over building plans.

FOOD SECONDARY AS HEALTH FACTOR

Discipline in Habits More Essential, Says State Board of Health.

Madison—The causes of malnutrition of children are founded not primarily on food, but on lack of proper training in health habits, is the view of state health authorities. Food is given a secondary place among these causes.

"Experience has demonstrated," the opinion of the state board of health reads, "that food is but one and by no means the most important factor involved. It will readily be appreciated that unless the provision for an ample and proper food supply is related by discipline which will require the child to partake of the nourishment and obtain the rest which will aid in its digestion and assimilation, the best results will not be obtained."

"The idea that food is of secondary importance in correcting cases of malnutrition may be a novelty to many, but reflection will justify the following arrangement of the causes of this condition. In order of their relative importance the malnutrition may be given as follows:

"Home control or discipline."
"Rest, sufficient night sleep and rest intervals during the day."
"Food in sufficient quantity, of adequate quality and eaten at proper times."
"Health habits, stressing elimination."

GIRL G. O. P. CANDIDATE ELECTED TO COUNTY JOB

Eagle River, Wis.—Miss Fern Scott was elected register of deeds at Eagle River by a plurality of 500 votes and carried every precinct over her Democratic opponent, W. Morris.

Miss Scott is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, a leader in several clubs and has taught Latin and German in several high schools of the state. She has been deputy register of deeds at Eagle River for some time and for the last two years has had complete charge of that office.

Her mother has been a teacher in the Washburn schools for 14 years and is a writer for magazines and newspapers.

OMAHA ROAD OPENS NEW BADGER TOWN IN NORTH

Coudray, Wis.—The Omaha road has just opened up Ojibwa station and placed an agent in charge. This station is located near the Chippewa river in the southern part of Sawyer county. The town is new and is backed up by the Wisconsin Colonization company. Ben Faast of Eau Claire is president of the concern. Keith Brothers of Eau Claire and Dean Russell of the university are also large stockholders in the company.

This concern has placed over 400 settlers in the southern part of this county during the last three years.

The town of Ojibwa is an ideal place for the location of a town, being in a section where the land is very good and on the river where water power can be utilized for all manufacturing purposes.

SECURITY

The attractiveness of any security is the assured soundness of the company issuing it. The Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Company has during a period of twenty-six years grown to be one of Wisconsin's strongest and largest industrial organizations. In its own field it is one of the largest in the world.

GROWTH AND PRODUCTS

A consistent growth has marked the development of the company. Its policy has ever been to temper enthusiasm with judgment—a judgment based on the calm review and analysis of past experiences. Its products, known and used both nationally and internationally, are looked upon as the standard in that particular industry.

A KNOWN ORGANIZATION

To the people of the surrounding territory, the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Company is no stranger. Its development, policy, products, in fact the very moulding of its entire organization is a record of fair dealing, progressiveness, quality products, modern merchandizing methods and sound business principles.

A Personal Statement

"It is with genuine pleasure that I personally recommend this 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock.

"To those wishing to invest their money in a gilt edge security yielding a high and positive return, I know of no better opportunity and I have no hesitancy in giving it my unqualified personal endorsement.

"I say this with confidence. Being closely associated with the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Company almost from its inception twenty-six years ago, I understand the consistency and soundness of its growth, its earning power and future possibilities."

MARKETS

HALT DECLINE IN PRICES OF WHEAT

Heavy Demands With Light Offerings Forces Grain Prices Up Today.

By United Press Staff Wire
Chicago.—Due to a heavy demand with light offerings, the sharp decline in grain prices on the Chicago board of trade was halted at least temporarily today.

Both commission houses and shorts wanted wheat and there was not a great deal of it for sale. The market opened haltingly, but gathered strength as trading advanced. Provisions also showed strength.

December wheat opened unchanged at $1.78 and later gained 5/8c. March wheat opened at $1.55 1/2, up 1/2 and advanced 1/4 before the close.

December corn opened up 1/4 at 75 1/2c and later advanced 5/8c. May corn was off 1/4 at the opening, 5/8c, but showed a gain of 3/4 in later trading.

December oats opened up 1/4 at 49 1/2c and later advanced 5/8c. May oats opened unchanged at 55 1/2c and later gained 1/4c.

WANTS SALARY OF JUDGE INCREASED

County Board Hears Petitions and Then Adjourns Until Thursday.

Attorney A. H. Krugmeier appeared before the county board Wednesday morning and made an appeal for an increase of salary for the county judge, whom he supported by figures secured from neighboring counties which were underpaid. The matter was laid over until Thursday morning, when it is expected that a committee will be appointed to take it up with the legislature.

A communication from the Appleton Woman's club in regard to a county home demonstrator was read and an invitation was extended to Mrs. Jones to address the board on the subject.

Reports of the district attorney, county judge, municipal judge, committee on common schools, and committee on Riverview sanitarium inventory were read and referred to the proper committees. The application of Dr. F. P. Doeherty for county physician was also read.

Accounts from No. 1 to No. 195 were read and referred to the proper committees. D. J. Ryan, vice chairman, presided in the absence of Douglas Hodgins, chairman. The absent members were Ballard, Bottrell, Fiedler, Greeley, Reichel, Nelson and Schwamer.

The annual session of the board opened at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with Douglas Hodgins in the chair. The only absent members were Ballard, Greeley and Tracy.

Dance at Falcon's Hall, Menasha, Wednesday, Nov. 10. Music by Aerial orchestra. Everybody invited.

C. S. Little was appointed to succeed G. D. Thomas, resigned; Edward Nelson to succeed Humphrey Ryan, and Henry Verbeten to succeed Joseph Doerflinger. The chair announced that the newly appointed members would serve on the committees to which their predecessors were appointed.

An invitation to visit the Outagamie Training school at Kaukauna Wednesday afternoon was accepted.

Anthony Macdonald, assemblyman from the Second district, stated that he had sent letters to members urging that the session be postponed for a few weeks in order to permit farmers to complete their fall work, but that on account of the change in the temperature he requested the members to pay no attention to them.

Upon completing its work Wednesday morning the board adjourned until 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

HOLD HEARING ON GRADE CROSSING

City and Railway Officials Discuss Danger of Second Avenue Crossing.

The railroad commission of Wisconsin is conducting a hearing at the city hall relative to elevation of the Chicago and Northwestern, and Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company tracks at the Second avenue crossing north of the city. The city council petitioned the commission some time ago, calling attention to the danger to traffic at this point.

Samuel Ryan, Madison, is conducting the hearing for the commission. A. F. Stefan, stenographer, is also here. The entire city council met at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning and is sitting through the entire hearing. A. K. Ellis and Attorney F. W. Grogan are preparing for the traction company. W. B. Basing and Robert H. Widdicombe, Chicago, are representing the railroad company, the latter as attorney for the road, Theodore Berg, city attorney, is acting for the city council.

A. G. Brusewitz, former highway commissioner for Outagamie county, and O. F. Weisgerber, city engineer, took the stand and testified as to the conditions at the crossing specified. Both informed their questioners that a clear view was impossible from the west because of the "fill" on which the railway's tracks was built, and the fact that the traction company's right of way was five feet below the former tracks. They testified that a house, barn shade trees and fences partially obscured the view from the east.

Both witnesses were subjected to considerable cross questioning by the attorneys. Both companies were endeavoring to find out from the witnesses whether it would be possible to eliminate the danger without building a subway or a viaduct. Mr. Weisgerber was prepared with exact statistics as to the amount of traffic of various kinds that passed over the crossing at stated hours, and also was able to tell the attorneys just what would have to be done to build a subway or a viaduct. Obeying the city's orders to secure only this information for the hearing, he appeared at a disarray, and when the attorneys tried to sift the elements of danger to exact objects, dimensions and conditions. He was obliged to rely on his memory of the physical surroundings, which appeared unsatisfactory to the company representatives.

The hearing was adjourned from noon to two o'clock. Mr. Ryan stated that he desired to view the crossing and surroundings, and the attorneys expressed the same wish. They planned to visit the scene before the afternoon meeting, possibly when passenger trains were due.

CLUB CELEBRATES FIRST BIRTHDAY

Splendid Anniversary Program Is Presented by Women's Club.

Between five and six hundred women attended the birthday party of The Woman's Club at the high school Tuesday evening. A pageant of months was presented in the auditorium under the direction of Miss Rose E. McNevin. The series of scenes were chronicled by Ruth Brigham who introduced each one with a line or two of clever poetry. January was presented by a tiny girl dressed in white typifying the year old club, followed by older girls as "prosperity", "progress" etc. A love scene was shown for February.

A May queen was crowned for the month of May, and a group of high school girls gave a very pretty folk dance in dainty costume. A mock wedding was performed for June. The bride, Miss Ruth Schumacher, marched onto the rostrum to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. She was preceded by two bridesmaids, Miss Virginia Pratt and Miss Ruth Dickinson.

An effective scene was presented for July by the Boy Scouts who gave an exhibition of their work. They demonstrated several phases of first aid, in tying bandages, and carrying wounded men. They also showed their wigwagging, stunts and flag drills. When they had concluded, their leader told of some of the purposes of the Boy Scouts and gave them their creed.

August was typified by a summer scene on a porch, in which summer sports of various kinds had a prominent part. A college girl's farewell was appropriately dramatized for September. The girls appeared with suit cases apparently leaving their homes for school.

The pageant was concluded by the appearance of old Father Time in long black robe, and flowing white beard who marched in falteringly, chanting as he wended his way across the rostrum. Then Father Time took off his garments and a young girl stepped forth who represented the New Year.

Mrs. Joseph Koffend then took the stage carrying a huge box which was to receive the birthday pennies. She also carried the birthday cake, which she auctioned off.

The birthday cake was cut into 110 pieces. The Woman's Club bank realized the sum of $48.00 from the party.

F. J. Kremer of Milwaukee, was here on business Wednesday.

Stops Here on Trip Around the World.

The government of New Zealand is the most socialist of any government in the world in the way that it owns and operates its own railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, coal mines, sawmills, fire and life insurance companies and all public utilities," said W. E. G. Willy of Turua, Auckland, New Zealand, who with Mrs. Willy is visiting his cousin, E. W. Shannon, 482 South street. "Even all probate matters are administered by the government," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Willy are on their way to Mr. Willy's old home at Somersetshire, England, which he has not visited since he left for New Zealand fourteen years ago. They started on their long journey September 27, and have already covered 8,000 miles. They came to the United States by way of Fiji Islands, Honolulu and Vancouver, British Columbia, and upon their return home expect to complete the circuit of the earth. They will remain in England about a year. Mr. Willy is a nephew of Mrs. D. H. Shannon, 482 John street, and of the late S. R. Willy and T. A. Willy.

Seasons Are Reversed.
"It is springtime now in New Zealand," said Mr. Willy, "and farmers are busy putting in their grain. Our seasons are just the reverse of those of the United States. We have our hottest weather at Christmas time and the coldest weather in July. The temperature rarely goes higher than 87 degrees in summer time, however, and not lower than 34 degrees during the winter. We see the sun in the north instead of the south and the North Star and Great Dippers are strangers to us."

Mr. Willy is a justice of the peace of the Dominion of New Zealand, as well as an extensive land owner and farmer. "Dairying and sheep raising are conducted on an extensive scale," said Mr. Willy, "and dairy products form one of our chief products. New Zealand is the home of the milking machine and the invention has been so perfect that two men can milk seventy cows in less than two hours. The climate is such that cattle graze the year round and need very little attention. Butter is selling at 65 cents per pound in your money, while cheese is selling at 30 cents.

"Business is conducted almost entirely on the co-operative plan. A dozen or more farmers usually combine to build a cheese factory and they

BEGIN SECOND WEEK OF BOWLING LEAGUE

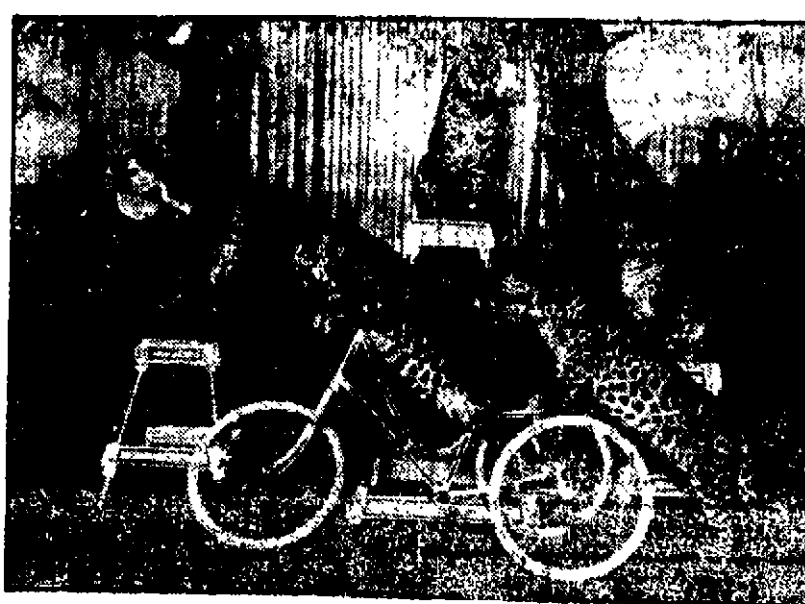

The second week of the St. Joseph Bowling League schedule began Monday evening at St. Joseph hall. The Blue Jays took two games out of three in a match with the Canaries. The Blue Jays team consists of A. Boehme, John Hannum, E. F. Carroll, Frank Verrier and Frank Groh. Wednesday evening the Crackles and Orioles will meet, and on Friday evening the Robins and Wrens will bowl.

Show Red Cross Posters
A series of Red Cross posters describing almost every phase of Red Cross work have been hung in the Free Public Library. Zone captains and their workers are expected to call at the library sometime before Thursday to study the posters. This will give them the needed information when the solicitation for members is made after the 1921 roll call opens.

then engage an experienced cheese maker to make the cheese and share in the profits. The government makes it an object for settlers to take up new land and loans money to them at the very lowest rate of interest, 4 1/2 per cent, plus 1 per cent for sinking fund, and at the end of thirty-two years the settler is given a deed of his land free from all debt. A settler is permitted to borrow any amount up to $12,000." Mr. Willy says that New Zealand still feels the effects of the World war in the way of high prices. The dominion had the distinction of furnishing more troops in proportion to its population, 19.5 per cent, than any other English colony. The total number furnished was 109,000. Its area is about the size of England and its population is 1,250,000.

There is a shortage of houses and labor, but no profiteering is permitted on the part of merchants, landlords, manufacturers or anyone else. If anyone feels that he has been overcharged for an article he has a right to appear before a tribunal established for that purpose and make known his grievance. If the merchant or dealer is found guilty of profiteering he is required to pay a heavy fine.

Common labor is paid from $4 to $5 per day. The price of clothing is about the same as in Appleton, the average suit costing about $65. The one thing that impressed Mr. Willy most is the heating plants in hotels and private homes which have kept him uncomfortably warm. In New Zealand in hotels and homes are not so equipped. Mr. Willy is greatly interested in our concrete roads. He says that New Zealand is just commencing to develop a good road system.

FARMER PROVIDES EXCELLENT FIELD FOR RISK AGENTS

Insurance Men of Valley Hear Interesting Address by Local Lawyer.

NEXT MEETING IN OSHKOSH

Chairman Baker Appoints Committee to Nominate District Officers.

A highly interesting and instructive address was given by Attorney Joshua L. Johns, of the firm of Morgan and Johns, at the banquet of the Fox River Valley Life Underwriters association Monday evening. He spoke of life insurance as applied to the inheritance tax, and also used more interest in the farmer field.

Mr. Johns recently came to Appleton from Algoma to take up law practice. He spoke in place of Attorney J. P. Frank, who was absent from the city. Dinner was served in the insurance men in the French room of the Sherman house. Charles C. Baker, vice-president of the association, acted as chairman in place of President J. C. Poute, Oshkosh, who was unable to attend.

Mr. Johns stated that the life insurance was a wide field open to the underwriter among the farmers. This field had been somewhat neglected and a campaign of education was therefore much in demand. He said it was just as important for the farmer to cover his mortgages and debts with life insurance as the business man, and more so to protect his wife and children.

Protection of the estates of business men was also dwelt upon by the speaker. He explained the operation of the inheritance tax law both federal and in the state, and stated that Wisconsin is the only state where taxes must be paid on the gross amount of the estate. Other states permit the federal tax to be deducted before paying the state tax. He showed how life insurance could be applied to cover these taxes.

Short talks were also given by A. A. Pilon, Fond du Lac and Fred F. Wettengel, Appleton. Music was furnished by a three-piece orchestra consisting of Masters Manner, Winninger and Maesch. Three new members were admitted, bringing the total up to 90.

Oshkosh was decided upon as the place for the next meeting to be held some time in January. It will be made the first annual meeting at which officers will be elected. Chairman Baker appointed a nominating committee consisting of F. C. Tooker, Green Bay; C. C. Konrad, Oshkosh; F. P. Wettengel, Appleton; S. D. Borcham, Fond du Lac; A. A. Pilon, Fond du Lac.

The valley association is the only one of its kind in the United States and is being watched with interest by the national association of underwriters. It was organized last spring, and is said to be a pronounced success. Its meetings have been found helpful to the insurance men in solving their problems.

DATE IS SET FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Scout Executive Committee
Holds Business Meeting
Monday Evening.

The date of the annual meeting of the Appleton Boy Scout Council was set for November 22, at the monthly meeting of the executive committee Monday evening at Appleton hotel. The officers met for dinner and then discussed a number of important matters.

A banquet will be held at the Y. M. C. A. for the annual meeting. The council will elect its officers for the coming year reports will be presented and plans laid for future activities.

Thomas A. Gallagher announced in a brief address that he would accept the position of scout commissioner. The committee also honored Leigh Haeley, one of the pioneers and foremost workers in local scout work, with appointment as deputy commissioner. These officials are voluntary assistants to E. R. Henderson, scout executive.

Reports of committees were heard. This showed that rapid progress has been made in boy scout work in Appleton, especially in organization. The camp committee was still undecided as to choice of a week end camping site.

Mr. Henderson was instructed to have the scout leaders meet for supper once a month in the future at the expense of the council. This method is believed to take less time of the men, and will give a better opportunity to discuss scout work and make plans.

Do you know where the purest and best flavored maple sugar comes from?

The flavor of Maple Karo tells you

Over a thousand tons of rich maple sugar from Vermont and Canada to make Maple Karo for the American family

The American housewife endorses Maple Karo this way:

Over five million cans were consumed last year. This is a greater sale, by far, of any kind of maple syrup sold.

If you are particular about the syrup you buy, and the price you pay for it—the new Maple Karo is your kind of syrup.

Perfectly delicious in rich maple tang—yet very moderate in price. So moderate that you can serve it every day, every meal. And all grocers everywhere have it.

Go to your grocer today. Get one can of Maple Karo. Try it just once. If you are not absolutely satisfied return it—and your grocer will give you back your money.

Look Out for Rheumatism As Winter Approaches

So many cases of Rheumatism come from a tiny disease germ that infects the blood, that physicians are beginning to realize that this source of the disease is becoming quite prevalent. Of course a disease that has its source in the blood cannot be reached by local remedies applied to the surface. One remedy that has given splendid results in the treatment of Rheumatism is S.S.S., the fine old

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."—ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."—Mrs. A. L. MILLER, 2633 E. 24th St., Minneapolis, Minn.

High School Teams Near End of Championship Race

With only two or three weeks remaining in the 1920 football season, contenders for the high school championship are preparing for the deciding battles. Appleton, apparently the only school which is not playing real title battles this week.

Superior and Madison are scheduled to clash in the latter city Saturday afternoon in a game which will go a long way toward clearing up the middle. Both teams are admittedly the strongest in their sections and the winner should be pretty near the state title.

Antigo, which has not lost a game this year, has challenged the winner of the Superior-Madison game to a game at Antigo. The northerners have piled up overwhelming scores in all their games, defeating the best in the Wisconsin River Valley.

Manitowish and Chippewa Falls are said to be the strongest in the west. Both Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls had been scheduled to play Appleton but cancelled their agreements.

In the east, Appleton is leading the chase, with East Green Bay close behind. The Raymen have been clamoring for a game with the local squad for many weeks, basing their claims on the fact that they have defeated practically the same teams over which Appleton was victorious.

If East Green Bay can defeat West Superior in the annual battle to-morrow, it is possible that Appleton will accommodate the Raymen. Green Bay insists, however, that the game be played in the Ancient City.

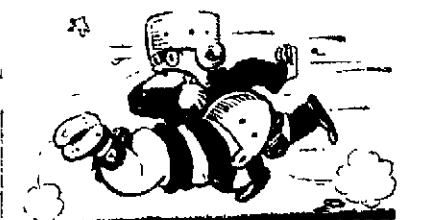

Appleton has issued a challenge to any undefeated team in the state, but is getting few answers and these from schools whose records do not indicate that they can give the locals much of an argument.

GRID MEN WELCOME COLDER WEATHER

Lawrence Putting on Final Touches for Carroll Game Here.

After two days of miserable weather which prevented the Lawrence team from getting the links out of its system, the squad this afternoon expects to put in hard work in preparation for the battle with Carroll college here Saturday afternoon.

The crisp air is just what football players need to bring out their "pep."

They will have to work in order to keep warm and that means that real snap will be put into action.

Coach McChesney is still drilling his men in forward pass defensive play, realizing that a few successful long passes may spell defeat for his squad. His system of breaking up plays held Ripon, famous for its passing game, in check, and also stepped the attack of the Engineers.

Eddie Johnson, quarterback, injured in Saturday's game with the Engineers, probably will not be able to play against Carroll. The plucky youngster received a hard blow on his side and is finding it hard to get around. Physicians said no hopes were broken.

O'DOWD WINS FIFTEEN ROUND BOUT WITH SMITH

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Mike O'Dowd earned the right for a return bout with John Wilson, middleweight champion, last night when he won the decision over Jeff Smith in a 15 round bout in Madison Square Garden.

The judges disagreed but the decision was given to the former champion by the referee.

JOHNSON CLUBS FIGHT FOR RUTH

New York.—The first of the legal battles threatened in the new baseball war will be fought over the possession of Babe Ruth.

The club owners standing out of the new baseball covenant with Ban Johnson insist that the contract of the home run king makes him primarily the property of the American league.

When Col. Huston, vice president of the Yankees, was told of this at the Roosevelt hospital he said:

"They won't get anything like as close to Ruth as the crown prince got to Paris."

ST. LOUIS SEEKS ANOTHER MANAGER

Clarence Rowland, Former White Sox Chief, May Head the Browns.

St. Louis.—The "next manager of the Browns" was the subject of conjecture here among baseball fans, following the announcement of the release of Jimmy Burke.

The name of Lee Fohl, Browns' scout; Rowland, former White Sox leader; Spencer Abbott of Tulsa, a Western league product, and Fred Mitchell, last year with the Cubs, were mentioned.

Acting president of the Browns Bob Quinn declined to shed any further light on the subject than to say the 1921 leader would not be named until after the minor league meeting at Kansas City on Tuesday, but it can be stated positively that Fred Mitchell will not be acceptable to the club. Spencer Abbott is not familiar with American league or major league conditions and may also be eliminated.

The Post-Dispatch states authoritatively that the St. Louis club would like to have Clarence Rowland, who won a pennant for the White Sox; but will not go after him until Frank Navin, the Detroit owner, has made it perfectly clear that the Browns' managerial plans. Rowland, it was stated in Detroit papers, was the Tiger owner's first choice for successor to the departed Jennings.

Burke's future has not been settled yet, but with four or five positions open in the major leagues it is reasonable to assume that the good natured but aggressive leader will land with some good team. Burke's most probable berth, in case Detroit lets St. Louis have Rowland, is at Detroit where he won a home as coach under Hugh Jennings.

11 Hens Idle; Now Lay 221 Eggs A Month

Almost Gave Up Raising Chickens. Then She Tried This Plan.

"When I accepted your offer and tried Don Sung, I was getting 1 or 2 eggs every other day. In one month, using Don Sung, my 11 hens laid 221 eggs. I almost quit raising chickens, but now I will make as many as I can."—Mrs. F. C. Young, Bellefonte, Pa.

You also can easily start your hens laying and keep them laying, even in cold weather. To prove it, accept our offer, as Mrs. Young did. Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed. Improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

You can obtain Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.00 (includes postage) for a package by mail. Burrell Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Does Your Husband Come Home Tired, Nervous, Irritable?

Physician Says Thousands Of Men Are Breaking Down Simply Because Their Blood Lacks Iron—Tells How To Convince A Husband That He Needs NUXATED IRON

To Help Make Red Blood, Strength and Endurance

"Simply because his blood lacks iron, many an American husband who ought to be feeling young, full of health, vigor and energy and in a position to shower his family with every comfort and luxury is actually struggling to make ends meet—a disappointed and discouraged 'old' man who will probably end up in a nervous breakdown or be carried off by his first illness," says Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner.

"Because man, in the rush and tear of modern life has so little time to think about his blood's condition and is often so slow to admit any weakness, the signs that his blood may be low in iron are often first detected by the watchful, loving eye of his wife. Does your husband come home pale and fagged out and too tired to do anything or go anywhere? Does he complain about being overworked—the lack of opportunity today—some other fellow's luck? Does he find fault with the food, the home or the young ones' behavior? Does he seem unable for one reason or another to get ahead and make big money as you and he once confidently expected?"

"Then it may well be true that his blood lacks iron, for the men with plenty of iron in their blood are the healthy, strong ones with the keen minds and the physical energy and stamina to overcome all obstacles—make their own opportunities—and force their way to big positions, power and wealth. My advice to the wife who believes her husband is lacking in big things in this world is to see that he builds up a strong iron in his blood and for this purpose I have found nothing better than organic iron—NUXATED IRON. By enriching the blood, creating new blood cells, it strengthens the nerves, rebuilds weakened tissues, and helps build new energy and endurance in the whole system. Nuxated Iron is used by over 4,000,000 people annually—used and endorsed by former United States Senators and Members of Congress—and in many cases it has been known to increase the strength and energy and endurance of run-down, nervous people in two weeks' time."

If your husband asks for proof that lack of iron is making him nervous, weak and holding him back in life, you can probably convince him with the following test: Have him see how long he can work or then let him take two tablets of Nuxated Iron three times daily after meals for two weeks. Then let him test his strength and see how much he has gained.

MANY A WOMAN'S NERVES—Nuxated Iron, which is recommended by so many doctors everywhere, is the only iron preparation known to increase the blood without doing harm to the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. It acts like a tonic and builds up the system. It is the only iron supplement that is entirely safe and the world's Nuxated Iron is stamped into its tablets with the name of the manufacturer, Burrell Dugger Co., Indianapolis, Ind. It is dispensed by all good druggists in tablet form only.

LOOK FOR HUGE CROWD AT HOMECOMING GAME

Madison, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin is preparing for a festival that has never been equaled—the annual Homecoming next Friday, Saturday and Sunday. There is not a spare moment on the program which begins next Friday noon with the registration of the alumni.

Reports from all sources indicate that the largest crowd ever attending a homecoming game will witness the Illinois-Wisconsin contest next Saturday. Illinois at the present time stands undefeated in the conference since defeating Chicago by the same score that Wisconsin conquered Minnesota last Saturday. The contest is the crucial game of the season and one of greatest importance in the mid-west.

HIGHS PLAY ST. JOHN SCHOOL ON SATURDAY

The Appleton high school football team will play St. John Military Academy Saturday afternoon at the Academy grounds.

In spite of his efforts, coach Vincent was unable to schedule a game for Thursday on the home grounds. The schools willing to play wanted the Appleton team to play on their grounds. Rather than have the boys remain idle another Saturday Vincent accepted a chance to play at the academy.

The high school defeated the Academy boys last year by a score of 7 to 0, so a close game may be looked for this year. The game will have no bearing on the championship, because the academy is in the college class, rather than the high school group.

MOUNT OLIVE ATHLETES PREPARE FOR SEASON

Election of officers took place at a meeting of the Mount Olive Evangelical Lutheran church Athletic association Monday evening at Busher's business college. The officers for the present year are: Louis Freude, president and chairman; John Dartman, vice president; R. J. Kaston, secretary; Orville Hegner, treasurer.

The association expects to begin its volleyball season Wednesday evening. At least four teams will be organized, and games will be played in the winter and early spring.

Arnold Krueger of Sugar Bush, was an Appleton visitor Wednesday.
